With apologies for the belated response, that works for me if it's still okay for you – I'll try you in a couple minutes

[REDACTED],

Been a little while since we've been in touch—I hope you're well. I was wondering if it would be possible to speak briefly tomorrow? I'm available anytime until 4:00 p.m., and would be happy to chat in the morning if that's convenient, though I understand it's short notice. Please let me know what might work? And thank you very much as always.

9:30 tomorrow morning? We'll call you then at [REDACTED] unless you provide another #.

Many thanks

[REDACTED],

Unfortunately I'm in the grand jury and meetings most of the afternoon, but I'll be free (and in the office) anytime this evening starting at 5:00, or could talk anytime tomorrow before 2:00. What works best for you?

thanks,

[REDACTED] – My cocounsel Steve Fenn and I would like to speak with you today, if possible. Is there a good time for us to phone you?

Regards,

[REDACTED],

I am one of the AUSAs working on the current investigation of Jeffrey Epstein in the Southern District of New York, and I was given your contact information by [REDACTED] and so wanted to be in touch for any deconfliction or discussion that might be useful with respect to our respective matters. Is there a good time to be in touch sometime this week? I should generally be able to make myself available at your convenience, and please let me know if any information would be helpful in advance.

thank you,
