[REDACTED] - her travel with us from our victim invite last year had her as [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. All of the attorneys are emailing me asking questions about the invite and RSVPs since they are familiar with me. Maybe it would help avoid any confusion if you send a follow up email copying me that they should reach out to that email address directly for all questions and rsvp's and can copy [REDACTED] like how [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] did; that way I am not the middle man. What do you think?

Hi [REDACTED],

Please note we have her listed as [REDACTED] not [REDACTED] as you had written below to Gloria – just trying to be careful about transcription to avoid confusion.

Also, you have said that you have her listed as [REDACTED] on "your list" but so far as I know you never sent us a list with an [REDACTED], so can you confirm whether we are missing a list?

Thank you!

I think that [REDACTED] [REDACTED] is her stage name. I believe you have booked her travel previously to New York under her legal name, which is the other name, but rather than my guessing re the spelling of her legal name, I just want Diane to check.

Hi Gloria- sorry to bother you on Sunday but DOJ just sent me an email. They are confused by me connecting [REDACTED] [REDACTED] to them. They stated you do not have her listed on your client list but have another [REDACTED] [REDACTED]?

Gloria - I sent your comments to DOJ. They are talking to the Miami office to see if there are any secure options; and we are hoping to have more answers on Monday. I will let you know soon as I have more answers.

Have a great weekend!

Hi Diane- I have copied the RSVP email that will assist in making the travel arrangements. They will send her a form to complete similar to the event last year. My cell is [REDACTED] in case she needs to contact me.

Thanks for your help coordinating with your office's clients!

Hello, [REDACTED],

Our client, [REDACTED] would like to attend the meeting in Miami, please. She would like to have her boyfriend, [REDACTED], join her for support. I will have [REDACTED] get in touch with you directly to make the travel arrangements, and/or you can connect her to the correct person to help her. In addition to giving [REDACTED] your email, is there a phone number I should give her as well?

Many thanks for your help.
Diane
